ACCOUNT AGREEMENT FOR YOUR VIRTUAL WALLET

This Agreement defines the relationship between you (the account holder) and us (PNC Bank). We think it will help you understand your account better and provide insight into procedures at PNC that impact your account.

This Agreement covers the accounts that comprise your Virtual Wallet product. With some Virtual Wallet products, you may choose to have a Spend account only, or Spend, Reserve, and Growth accounts. If you have a Spend account only, some portions of this agreement may not apply.

These consumer accounts are for your personal, family or household use only.

You don't need to sign this agreement. When you sign the signature card, electronically acknowledge your agreement to the terms and conditions of the agreements provided on the "Terms and Conditions" page of the online account application, use your account(s) or add/change services connected to your account, you are agreeing to the terms and conditions in this agreement. You are also agreeing to comply with all local, state and federal laws, rules and regulations, as amended from time to time, including without limitation the Bank Secrecy Act, the USA PATRIOT Act, the federal anti-money laundering statutes and any laws or regulations that are enforced or administered by the U.S. Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC).

This contract is legally binding, so we recommend that you read this agreement and keep it for reference. The terms of this agreement will take precedence over any statement, spoken or written, made by a PNC employee or officer.

If you appoint a legal representative or an attorney-in-fact (for example, if you give someone power of attorney), that person will also be bound by this agreement.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY THE ARBITRATION PROVISION LOCATED ON PAGES 15-17.

You should also review the following documents that relate to your account(s):

- "Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select, or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Features and Fees". Product availability may vary by location.
- "Consumer Funds Availability Policy"
- "Substitute Check Policy Disclosure"
- "Consumer Electronic Funds Transfer Disclosure Statement"
- "Overdraft Protection Agreement"
- "PNC Privacy Notice, What Does PNC Do With Your Personal Information?"
- The "Digital Services Agreement," which governs external transfers, payments to PNC, Bill Pay, and other features in PNC Online and Mobile Banking (if you have any of these features)

ABOUT YOUR ACCOUNT

Protecting your account

You are responsible for keeping track of your transactions. You must protect your checks, debit card and PIN, and you must notify us if any of these items are lost or stolen.

Contact us immediately if you notice any irregularities in your account. We will investigate the situation. If necessary, we may require you to transfer the balance to another account or close the account, depending on the situation.

You are responsible for providing us with true, accurate and complete contact information, including a valid address (postal or email). If you change your address, please notify us promptly by postal mail, electronic mail, in person, by phone or through Online Banking. If you change your electronic contact information, please update through Online Banking. We will deliver notices and other materials using the contact information you have specified. We are not responsible for investigating whether or not you have changed contact information. If a notice is returned to us as undeliverable, by email or postal mail, we can stop sending notices until you provide us a valid address.

Protecting your Debit Card

Your PIN serves as an electronic version of your signature, and has the same legal effect, so keep it safe.

- Do not tell your PIN to anyone else.
- Do not write your PIN on your card.
- Do not keep a copy of your PIN with your debit card.

If you give your debit card and PIN to anyone, you will be responsible for their actions.

Contact the bank immediately if your debit card is lost or stolen, or if you have problems with your account.

Read the Consumer Electronic Funds Transfer Disclosure Statement, which further describes your rights and liabilities regarding your card and your PIN.

Your statement

You can check your balance and track your transactions online as soon as we process your deposits, withdrawals and transfers.

We will also mail or post (“deliver”) a monthly statement of your Account that lists all account activity. We will do this: (1) by mailing the statement, in paper form, to the last postal address which you have specified for your Account; or (2) if you have opted to receive online statements in electronic form, by posting the statement in PDF form on PNC’s secure Online Banking web site. (For more information about online statements, please consult PNC’s Digital Services Agreement).

This statement will list all activity that relates to your Account during the statement period and any other information required by law. Upon receipt, you should review your statement carefully. You should keep accurate records of all of your transactions, but you should examine your statement for out-of-sequence check numbers, checks payable to cash, repeat check numbers, balance discrepancies, or unexpected fluctuations. Your statement is considered correct, and we will not be liable for payments made and charged to your Account unless you notify us of an error or other irregularity, including unauthorized payment, within 30 calendar days of the delivery date of the earliest statement describing the charge or deposit to your account. Please note: If the same person has made two or more unauthorized transactions and you fail to notify us of the first one within this 30-day period, we will not be responsible for unauthorized transactions made by the same person.

You should take special care to review all checks listed on your statement. Printed statements provide the date, check number, and amount of most checks. You should also visually inspect checks to confirm that none of the information on them has been modified, including but not limited to your signature, the date, the amount, and the name of the person or entity you intended to pay. Most checks can be visually reviewed through PNC’s Online Banking. Alternatively, you may request photocopies or image copies of checks paid against the Account (or other Account documentation), provided that such checks or documents are available to us under our record retention policies. These requests are subject to any applicable charges set forth in the Fee Schedule for your Account.

For your Spend and Reserve accounts (if you have a Reserve account), we will deliver a statement each month. Statements for your Growth account (if you have a Growth account) will be updated monthly if there are electronic fund transfers; otherwise, they will be delivered quarterly. We may deliver statements less frequently if your account is inactive. Your account is considered inactive if you don’t make any withdrawals or deposits for six or more months.

Deposit account servicing documents

We will mail or post (“deliver”) account servicing communications (“documents”) that provide information on certain account activity or other servicing information. We will do this: (1) by posting the document in PDF form on PNC’s secure Online Banking website if the communication is available to be delivered through Online Banking; or (2) by mailing the document, in paper form, to the last postal address which you have specified for your Account. (For more information about online documents, please consult PNC’s Digital Services Agreement).

Documents that are delivered through Online Banking will no longer be delivered by postal mail. For more information on documents that will be delivered through Online Banking and answers to common questions, visit the Documents tab within the Customer Service section of Online Banking.

We will also send you an email notification that a new document is ready to be viewed in Online Banking.

Access to your account

To appoint someone to act on your behalf

If you want someone to act as your agent, guardian, representative or trustee, you must notify us so we can designate this person on our records as your agent.

If you appoint someone to act on your behalf, we will ask to review the documents (power of attorney, court order, etc.) that establish this arrangement. Appoint this person(s) carefully, since we will follow your agent’s instructions until we receive —and have time to act on —written notice that he/she is no longer your agent. We will not be held responsible for his/her actions.

FOR ACCOUNTS IN INDIANA: Such documents must be valid as defined by Indiana Code 30-5.

For payable on death or "in trust for" accounts

We will, as permitted by law, accept accounts that are designated as either payable on death or in trust for another (both referred to as "POD Account(s)"), and which automatically transfer your POD Account, upon your death, to the beneficiaries ("POD Beneficiaries") designated on the signature card. This means that when you die the funds in a POD Account will not be part of your estate.

POD Beneficiaries have a right of survivorship. This means if one POD Beneficiary pre-deceases the owner(s) of the POD Account, the surviving POD Beneficiary would then take full ownership of the Account upon the death of the last owner and the heirs of the deceased POD Beneficiary would not be entitled to any ownership interest in the Account. If there is no surviving beneficiary when the last owner of the POD Account dies, then the Account is payable to the heirs (or estate, if a formal estate is raised) of the last surviving owner of the POD Account. FOR ACCOUNTS IN FLORIDA: POD Beneficiaries may only have equal shares. FOR ACCOUNTS IN MISSOURI: This Account is subject to the Missouri Nonprobate Transfers Law, Chapter 461 of the Mo. Rev. Statutes.

For joint accounts

Unless you open your account online, each account holder needs to sign a signature card to be considered a joint account holder. If you open your account online, each account holder needs to electronically acknowledge the terms and conditions of the agreements provided on the "Terms and Conditions" page of the online account application.

Unless you open your account online, each account holder needs to sign a signature card.

Unless we are given specific direction in writing, signed by all joint account holders, each joint account holder will be able to perform the following account-related actions:

- Endorse checks made payable to any joint account holder
- Make deposits or withdrawals
- Provide instructions about the account or appoint a representative to act on his/her behalf

If your Account is a joint Account, you and the other account holder(s) own the joint account as joint tenants with the rights of survivorship and not as tenants in common. This means that each joint account holder has full control of the account while all are alive. If a joint account holder dies, all sums in the Account on the date of death belong to the surviving party(ies) and will not be part of the decedent's estate.

We will honor a check signed by any joint account holder.

We consider any notice sent to one joint account holder to be a notice to all joint account holders. For documents delivered through Online Banking, all account holders will be able to view them by visiting the Documents tab in Online Banking. We will require at least one account holder to provide an email address to receive notification of the availability of a new document. All account holders may sign up to receive notifications and update notification preferences.

If an Account is in the names of spouses, you understand, intend and agree that such an account is NOT owned as tenants by the entireties unless otherwise expressly designated on the Account records. We reserve the right to refuse to allow you to hold the Account as tenants by the entireties, at our discretion.

Charges and fees

Charges and fees will be assessed to your account. To avoid overdrawing your account, be sure to include these fees when you balance your account.

We will deduct from your account any charges or fees that you owe. These charges may include the following:

- A monthly service charge
- Charges for account services
- A legal process fee if your funds are attached or garnished

These fees will reduce your balance. In some cases, this may cause you to overdraw your account or your outstanding checks to be returned unpaid.

DEPOSITING MONEY

Overview

You may make a deposit in several ways:

- In person
- By mail
- At an ATM

- By a mobile device

We recommend using the deposit slips that come with your account; they are encoded with information that will help ensure that your deposit is credited correctly.

If you make a deposit, we may adjust your account by debiting or crediting it if there are computational, transactional or other errors (for example, if you added your checks incorrectly and deposited more or less than you thought you did at the ATM). We may remove funds from your account when we make adjustments.

Make sure your deposit makes it safely to the bank

We recommend you retain your receipts — you may need them to prove your deposit.

Don't mail cash, since there's a risk it will be stolen.

We verify all deposits, but will not be held responsible for deposits we don't have a record of or don't receive.

Ensure your account number is correct when electronically transferring funds to your account through the Automated Clearing House (ACH) network. An example of this type of transfer is when your paycheck is deposited through direct deposit. When we process incoming fund transfers, we routinely rely on the account number given to us by the financial institutions or other persons who send the fund transfers to us. We will have no duty to determine if the account number provided to us is consistent with the name or other information given to us, and we will not be liable to you if we credit a fund transfer intended for you to another customer's account because the sender instructed us to credit an incorrect account number, or if we adjust your Account to remove the proceeds of a funds transfer or transfers incorrectly credited to your Account.

As soon as the fund transfer is credited to your account, you can access this information online through Virtual Wallet. We will also notify you of this deposit on your regular account statement.

Endorsing checks

Be sure to properly endorse your checks and only use the area allowed for your endorsement.

We may be unable to deposit your check if you've written your endorsement in the wrong area.

If your check is missing an endorsement, we have the right to fill it in. However, we may refuse to accept a check, for example, if it has multiple endorsements (such as a check made payable to someone else and later signed over to you).

If we need to investigate an improperly endorsed check or obtain an endorsement, we may place a hold on your account until we can resolve the matter.

Collecting your deposits

The time it takes to collect the funds you deposit depends on the banks or parties involved and their locations. Sometimes, due to circumstances beyond our control, your deposits will take longer to become available.

Our general practice is to decline to cash a check made payable to you and drawn on another institution if you have not had a deposit account with us for at least one (1) year. We may require you to deposit the check to your Account instead. With respect to all other checks drawn on any institution, we may refuse to cash a check made payable to you, but instead require you to deposit the check to your Account.

When you make a non-cash deposit, we post it to your account, but this credit is dependent on receiving final payment. If you make a deposit that will not be paid — for example, if you deposit a bad check or we don't receive final payment for electronically deposited funds — we will withdraw this amount from your account plus any interest you've earned. If this causes your account to be overdrawn, you must also pay the amount of the overdraft immediately, as well as any overdraft charges.

We may return all or part of a deposit at any time. We do not have to notify you before we credit or revoke these funds from your account.

Any fees we have to pay to collect a deposit from your account, such as lawyers' fees, will be charged to your account. All deposits and credits to your account, including without limitation wire transfers and other electronic payments, are subject to review for compliance with applicable law, including without limitation regulations enforced by OFAC. This may result in delays in posting such deposits or credits to your account, or refusal to accept all or part of the deposit. We will not be liable to you for any such delays or refusals.

If we have to reimburse the government for funds deposited into your account, we may deduct that amount from any account you have with us. We do not have to notify you first, unless required by law.

Read the PNC Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Features and Fees for overdraft fees. (Product availability may vary by location.)

WITHDRAWING MONEY

Overview

Your account offers many ways to withdraw money, such as online, in person, checks, debits or ATM transactions.

We withdraw funds from your account on the day an item is presented to us or when we are notified that an item drawn on your account, such as a check, has been deposited in another financial institution.

Using your debit card

You may use your debit card for ATM transactions and to purchase goods and services. Debit cards are considered bank property. We have the right to cancel your card without notice at anytime and may require you to surrender it.

Writing checks

If you write a check, we can only honor it if it is properly filled out and signed by you or your representative whose authority is on file with us.

We don't return your checks after processing them. If available, we will provide check images or photocopies.

Review the "PNC Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select, or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Features and Fees" for any fees for providing check images or photocopies. (Product availability may vary by location.)

Use blue or black ink

Writing or depositing checks with decorative images or ink colors other than black or blue increases the possibility of processing errors. We will not be liable for any losses you incur as a result of processing errors.

Write a current date on your checks

We are not responsible for checks that are missing dates, postdated, or stale-dated. If you do not wish to pay a check you have already written, place a stop payment order with us. Read the Stop Payment Section of this Agreement for more information. We have the right to refuse requests to cash checks that you have written with an inappropriate date. We also have the right to impose a charge for cashing a check that you have written if the date is not current.

Signing checks

You must sign your checks, or a representative who has been granted check-writing authority must sign them.

If you have a joint account, any joint account holder may sign checks. Protect any stamps or machinery you use to sign checks, since their use by any person is considered an authorized signature.

We process checks automatically so that we can clear the largest number of checks at the lowest cost to customers. We have a duty to use "ordinary care" in examining the checks that we process; by processing your check automatically, we have used ordinary care. We have also used ordinary care if a check has unauthorized signatures or is altered so skillfully that a reasonably careful person cannot readily detect this change. We will not be liable for any resulting losses.

Insufficient funds and Overdrafts

You should consider all your transactions when you make a withdrawal. We give you daily access to the information we have regarding your account balances and transactions, but the accuracy of that information is subject to any pending or unprocessed transactions that only you know about. It is your responsibility to keep track of your transactions and balances accurately.

Overdrafts

We are only required to permit a withdrawal if your account has sufficient available funds to cover the whole amount.

FOR ACCOUNTS IN INDIANA: If you do not deposit sufficient funds to bring your Account current within a reasonable time of incurring an overdraft, then we may charge you a fee for services used to recover the outstanding indebtedness.

If you are a recipient of Social Security or other government benefits which have been deposited in the account, you specifically authorize us to apply such benefits to pay any overdraft.

Payment of Overdrafts for Debit Card Transactions

If you want us to allow you to complete a transaction that may cause an overdraft to your checking account when using your debit card at ATMs, and for everyday (one-time or non-recurring) merchant purchases, you must specifically authorize us to do so. If you authorize us to pay these transactions, you agree to repay us immediately the amount of any funds advanced to you. We may also assess your Account a service fee. At no time shall we be required to allow you to overdraw your Account, even if we had allowed such activity on one or more prior occasions.

If you do not specifically authorize us to complete these transactions, we will decline these transactions if your funds are not sufficient to cover them. We may not be able to prevent all overdrafts (including, without limitation, transactions that a merchant does not submit for authorization). Even if we are unable to prevent such overdrafts, you are still required to repay us immediately the amount of the funds advanced to you.

If you have authorized us to pay overdrafts when using your debit card, and you are using a PNC Bank ATM, we can give you the choice to cancel the transaction if it would cause an overdraft. We are not able to provide you this choice when using a non-PNC Bank ATM or when making purchases.

Payment of Overdrafts for Checks, ACH Transactions and Preauthorized Automatic Debits

Checks, ACH Transactions and preauthorized automatic debits (including recurring debit transactions) that exceed the available balance in your account, and thus create an overdraft, are subject to associated overdraft fees. If, in our sole discretion, we choose to allow these withdrawals when there are not sufficient available funds in your account, you agree to repay us immediately the amount of any funds advanced to you. In addition, your account may still be assessed with associated overdraft fees. At no time shall we be required to allow you to overdraw your Account, even if we had allowed such activity on one or more prior occasions. We reserve the right to refuse to cash or to impose a charge on anyone who asks us to cash a check that you have written. Even if your check is otherwise properly payable, we will not be liable to you for dishonor of your check, or otherwise, as a result of such refusal. The classification of a transaction as recurring or non-recurring is determined by merchants, other institutions or other third parties before it is presented to us for authorization or payment.

Pending Transactions

In determining whether you have sufficient funds in your account to pay checks and other withdrawal items, we will consider both of the following: (1) the deposits and withdrawals posted that day to your account, and (2) pending electronic transactions (including, but not limited to, point-of-sale transactions) for which PNC has received notice, even if those transactions have not yet posted to your account. We may conclusively rely on notice of electronic transactions in determining whether you have sufficient funds in your account to cover a withdrawal, even if the notice incorrectly describes the transaction. This could result in an overdraft, or cause transactions to be declined, if sufficient funds are not available in your account to pay all checks and other withdrawal items. Pending electronic transactions include (but are not limited to) purchases, transfers or withdrawals made with your Debit Card or Banking Card, merchant payment authorizations, online transfers of funds, telephone transfers and any other electronic transactions or transfers. We will not be responsible for damages or wrongful dishonor if any item is not paid because of insufficient funds resulting from this method of determining whether you have sufficient funds to pay all checks and other withdrawal items. In addition, funds you may have deposited may not be immediately available under our Funds Availability Policy. Please review our Consumer Funds Availability Policy for more information.

Order of Processing Withdrawals

Our general practice is to first add deposits (credits) to your Account and then subtract withdrawals (debits) from your Account. Transactions are ordered according to the date and time the bank receives notice of the transaction. We receive notice of transactions at various times throughout the day, and not necessarily in the order in which they occur. If multiple transactions are received at the same time, or are grouped together and contain no time, then the items will be processed in order of sequence number or, if no sequence number is available, largest-to- smallest dollar amount. If we do not have information that allows us to determine the exact time notice of a transaction was received, we may assign an approximated time to that transaction.

Debit card purchases will be posted according to the date and time provided by the merchant. Because processing times vary, the time we receive notice of a transaction may differ from the time shown on a receipt. This order of processing may affect the total number of overdrafts on your account (and, if applicable, the total amount and number of overdraft fees charged). We will not be liable for damages or wrongful dishonor if any item is not paid as a result of the order in which we process withdrawals.

Other Information

We are only required to make one determination per day regarding whether your balance is sufficient to pay transactions. We don't have to determine your balance again if you have more funds available later in that day.

We are not required to notify you in the following circumstances:

- We pay a check that overdraws your account.
- We choose not to pay a check that would overdraw your account.
- We charge you a fee for either of these scenarios.

Stop payment orders

You may stop payment on any of the following:

- Checks
- Preauthorized transfers
- Scheduled transfers
- Or Visa Debit Card recurring debits

If you want more information on stopping payment of a preauthorized transaction, see our "Consumer Electronic Funds Transfer Disclosure Statement."

You cannot stop payment on the following:

- Cashier's checks
- Money orders
- Other items that are equivalent to cash

To stop payment, verify that the information you provide, such as the amount and check number, is accurate. We process stop payment orders by computer, so you need to provide accurate information. Otherwise, we cannot ensure the item you want stopped will not be paid.

We will accept a stop payment order from anyone with signing authority on your account, regardless of who wrote the check or made the payment order that is being stopped.

We must receive your stop payment order with enough time and in a manner that we can reasonably act on it before finalizing your payment.

After we receive your stop payment order, it will be effective for six (6) months, unless you notify us in writing to cancel the stop payment order sooner. Stop payment orders on Visa Debit Card recurring debits are effective for two (2) years.

To extend a stop payment order, you need to write or call us before it expires. If you do not extend the stop payment order, we are allowed to pay an item presented to us after the stop payment order has expired. If we inadvertently pay an item that you have a stop payment order on, we may not recredit your account if you owe money to the payee. If we recredit your account, you will have assigned us your rights against the payee(s), for the item and the underlying claim.

TRANSFERRING MONEY

Transaction limitations

Transaction fees will apply to your account if you exceed six (6) Restricted Transfers in a monthly service charge period. Restricted Transfers are transfers from a Growth account to other accounts (including transfers to another account for overdraft protection) or to third parties by check, through point-of sale purchase transactions or similar debit card transactions, by pre-authorized or automatic agreements, telephone, online or similar order payable to a third person. If you make more than a total of six (6) Restricted Transfers in a monthly service charge period, you will be charged a fee for each Restricted Transfer.

See the Consumer Electronic Funds Transfer Disclosure Statement or ask a PNC Bank employee.

Some of the transactions that are limited include the following:

- Overdraft transfers from a savings account to cover checking transactions
- Transferring money from a savings account to a checking account online or over the phone
- Transferring money electronically to pay a third party, a mortgage with another bank, utilities, gym membership, etc.

We reserve the right to prevent transfers that exceed these transaction limits or to monitor these transactions after they occur. For more information as to which types of transactions may be conducted with each Account, and any limitations on such transactions, please refer to our Electronic Fund Transfer Disclosure Statement or ask a Bank employee for assistance. We reserve the right to suspend enforcement of these transaction limitations, or to modify them, at our discretion.

SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES

Disagreements between joint account holders

If we receive notice of a dispute between two or more account holders, we may require all account holders to sign transactions. This ensures that everyone is aware of the transaction.

Death of an account holder

Each joint depositor agrees to notify us promptly upon the death of any other depositor or authorized signer by providing us with a copy of the depositor's death certificate. If your account is considered payable-on-death, we will transfer your account to the beneficiaries listed on your signature card. Ordinarily, we have the right to pay any checks and carry out any other transactions authorized by the deceased depositor for 10 days after the date of death, or for a different period of time if specified by law. For joint accounts, the surviving account holder(s) can stop payment on checks or transfers made by the deceased. For accounts with a single account holder, a legal representative can stop payment on checks or transfers made by the deceased. Otherwise, we will pay all checks and carry out all authorized transactions for 10 days. Until legal requirements are met, we may refuse withdrawals from your account.

If we receive or release funds after the depositor's death and have to pay tax or reclamation claims to any governmental agency as a result, the estate of the deceased depositor will be liable for reimbursing us. We may hold, freeze or otherwise restrict access to any funds in the Account subject to a tax or reclamation claim until we are made aware that such claim has been resolved.

If your account becomes inactive

Your account is considered inactive if you don't make any withdrawals or deposits for six or more months. You will still be assessed the following:

- Existing charges and fees
- Any charges and fees introduced or raised during the period of inactivity

We may send you statements less frequently if your account becomes inactive. Additionally, your account may be considered "abandoned property" under state law if it is inactive for an extended period of time. The definition of "inactive," including the time period, depends on which state's law applies. If your account is "abandoned property," we are required to transfer the balance to the state.

If we need to reclaim money

You and any joint depositors grant us a security interest in the balance in the account(s) that comprise your Virtual Wallet and in any other individual and joint accounts in your name, including joint accounts owned by husband and wife, to pay all loans, overdrafts or other obligations or other indebtedness now or hereafter owing to us by you, either individually or jointly. We may exercise our right of set off without advance notice to you and without regard to any other right that we may have against you or any other person or entity. We may also freeze or place a hold on your account(s) without setting off in order to investigate any dispute or claim.

Our security interest and right of set off shall continue even after the account(s) has been closed and will apply to any credit resulting from disputes you initiate or any items received for payment after the account(s) has been closed. We reserve the right to apply the proceeds of any credit received to the account(s), including credits received after the account(s) is closed, to reduce any outstanding balance you owe us.

Our security interest and right of set off shall prevail and take priority over any claim, change of ownership, pledge, attachment, garnishment, levy, court order or other legal process of any kind whatsoever. Should one of these events occur, we may take any action permitted or required by law.

FOR ACCOUNTS IN INDIANA: All joint account holders specifically agree that the provisions of Indiana Code 32-17-11-17 and 32-17-11-27, regarding the proportion of net contribution by each joint account holder, shall not apply to any charge to an Account under this section, and we shall have the right to deduct from any such Account the amount of any indebtedness due and owing to us from any joint account holder up to and including the entire balance of any such Account without regard to the contribution to the Account.

Disputes

If we become aware of a Dispute related to your Account, you agree that we may take action to address the Dispute without advance notice or any liability to you. Examples of a "Dispute" include, but are not limited to, a claim against your Account or some or all of the funds in it, a conflict among owners and/or authorized signers on your Account, a dispute over authority to act on your Account, and an assertion of fraudulent, unauthorized or unlawful activity on your Account.

While we are not required to take action in the event of a Dispute, and may continue to rely on information already on file regarding authority to act on your Account, we may take action including, but not limited to: honoring the Dispute if we believe it is valid; placing a hold on your Account or some or all of the funds in it; closing your Account and sending a check made out to you or you and any person or entity claiming an interest in the funds; or initiating legal proceedings, in which PNC may be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees and costs, to resolve the Dispute.

Restricting Access to Your Account

You agree that we may place a hold on your Account or some or all of the funds in your Account, or delay, decline or prevent transactions, without prior notice or any liability to you if we detect irregular activity, including but not limited to activity we suspect to be fraudulent, unauthorized or unlawful. We may hold funds and/or restrict transactions until our questions about any activity are resolved or we are directed by court order. We may also remove the funds on hold from your Account. You agree that, in addition to placing a hold, we may return any disputed funds or remove the funds on hold from your Account. In addition to our right of set off, we have the right to debit your Account or any of your other Accounts in the amount of a returned transfer, without prior notice, when any disputed amount has been returned. Unless applicable law provides otherwise, PNC is not obliged to provide an explanation addressing why a hold has been placed.

If you receive payment from us for an item, you agree that we may place a hold on your Account in order to investigate a claim that the item contains a forged endorsement or alteration. If, after a reasonable investigation, we find that the item contains a forged endorsement or alteration, we may charge your Account for the face value of the item.

Obtaining Consumer Reports:

You authorize us to obtain consumer reports about you from third parties such as consumer reporting agencies for purposes of verifying your identity and evaluating your eligibility for this Account. If the Account is jointly held, we will also obtain consumer report information about any joint owner(s). We may also obtain such reports to service and maintain the Account. By opening this Account, you consent to us obtaining and using these reports as described.

Reporting Negative Information to Consumer Reporting Agencies; Disputing Reported Information

We may report information regarding your Account to consumer reporting agencies. If the Account is jointly held, we may also report information to consumer reporting agencies about any joint owner(s). Negative information, including closing of the Account with an overdrawn balance owed or other defaults on the Account, may be reflected in each joint owner's credit report. If you believe that the information that PNC Bank is furnishing to Early Warning Services is inaccurate or incomplete, and you wish to dispute the reported information, you may dispute directly to PNC Bank and/or to Early Warning Services, as applicable, however, the dispute must be in writing and sent by mail or fax as follows:

- PNC Bank, P.O. Box 99685, Pittsburgh, PA 15233
- Early Warning Services, LLC Attn: Consumer Services,
5801 North Pima Road
Scottsdale, Arizona 85250 or faxing it to:
480-656-6850.

Your correspondence should include the following information:

- Your name, address and Social Security Number
- Your account number
- The information being reported that you believe is inaccurate or incomplete
- Any supporting documentation, such as account statements, letters, etc.
- A copy of the Early Warning Services report, if available

LEGAL PROCESS

Legal process includes, without limitation, any state or federal levy, garnishment, attachment, withholding order, injunction, restraining order, subpoena, search warrant, government agency request for information, order for forfeiture or seizure, or other legal process we believe to be valid relating to your account(s).

For purposes of responding to legal process, PNC determines where your account is located as follows: (i) if you opened your account in person, it is located in the state where you opened it; (ii) if you opened your account online or by other remote means (e.g., telephone, mail, etc.), and you resided in a state where PNC had branch or retail offices at that time, it is located in that state; (iii) if you opened your account online or by other remote means, but you resided in a state where PNC did not have branch or retail offices at that time, your account is located in Pennsylvania.

You acknowledge and agree that we may comply with or object to any legal process as we determine in our discretion to be appropriate under the circumstances.

Unless otherwise required by law, PNC is not obligated to provide notice of legal process relating to your accounts. We do not send notice if we believe the law prohibits us from doing so. If notice is provided, notice to one account holder constitutes notice to all account holders.

We may comply with legal process even if it affects the interests of fewer than all the owners or authorized signers of a joint account or safe deposit box.

We may hold or turn over funds or other property to the court or other party as directed by the legal process, subject to our right of set off and any security interest we may have in the funds or other property.

If your account is attached, garnished, held, or otherwise subject to legal process, you agree that we will not be liable for dishonoring checks, drafts, or other items, including items returned unpaid, because of insufficient funds in your account(s) due to a hold or freeze placed on your account(s) as a result of any legal process with which we are served. You agree that we are not required to pay interest on such funds held.

We may charge your account a fee for each legal process regardless of whether the legal process is subsequently revoked, vacated, or released.

Any fees, expenses, attorney's fees, costs or losses we incur as a result of responding to legal process related to your account are your responsibility. These amounts may be deducted from the balance of your account(s) maintained with us at the time they are incurred, which may be prior to our complying with the legal process. It is your responsibility to timely preserve any and all objections you may have to legal process with the relevant court or entity. We may comply with legal process if any objections are insufficient or denied.

You may have rights to contest such process under the relevant law.

If you believe all or a portion of your funds are exempt from legal process, or otherwise should not be subject to legal process, you agree that it is your responsibility to assert any claim or raise any defense to the legal process against the appropriate party, and you agree that we have no obligation to do so, unless specifically required by law. We will comply with legal process if any claims or objections are deemed insufficient or denied.

Transferring your account

If you want to transfer ownership of your account, the transfer has to appear on our records to be considered effective.

If you want to remove a joint account holder or transfer ownership of your account, you may need to close the account, and a new account can then be opened by the new owner(s).

If you are pledging your account to pay for a debt, we must approve of this transfer.

Closing your account

You or the Bank can close the account(s) that comprise your Virtual Wallet at any time, for any reason, without advance notice. We may ask that you provide your request to close your account(s) in writing. We are not required to close the account(s) at your request until all known authorized or outstanding items (including, but not limited to, checks, ATM, point-of-sale, ACH and other electronic transactions) have been paid from your account(s) and any outstanding disputes (including but not limited to disputes regarding electronic transfers, ACH transactions or other unresolved internal research requests/disputes concerning the account(s)) have been resolved. After you or we close the account(s), if the account(s) has a positive balance, we will mail you a check for the final balance, reduced by any amount you owe us. You will still be responsible for any outstanding transactions, or service charges or overdrafts incurred before, during or after the time the account(s) is closed.

After your account(s) is closed, we may temporarily reopen your account(s) to resolve a dispute concerning the account(s), or to accept a debit or credit to your account(s), even if doing so results in your account(s) becoming overdrawn. If we temporarily reopen your account(s), we may exercise our discretion to return any debit or credit that is received to your account(s) while your account(s) is temporarily reopened.

Alternatively, if we receive a debit or credit to your account(s) after it is closed, we may, in our sole discretion, return to the payee any debit or return to the originator any additional deposits or electronic credits (including, but not limited to, Social Security, pension payments and automatic payroll deposits), and you will be liable for any associated charges.

WHAT WE DO BEHIND THE SCENES

Maintaining your account

For more information on how interest is calculated, read the “Interest Payment and Balance Computation” section of this booklet.

Each checking account may be comprised of 2 sub-accounts that we manage. It does not affect your interactions with your account. For your Virtual Wallet or Virtual Wallet Student Spend account and your Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Spend and Reserve accounts, one of the sub-accounts is a checking sub-account; the other is a non-interest-bearing money market sub-account. For the Spend portion of your Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend or Virtual Wallet with Performance Select account, one of the sub-accounts is a checking sub-account; the other is an interest-bearing money market sub-account. For the Reserve portion of your Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend and Virtual Wallet with Performance Select, one of the sub-accounts is a checking sub-account, and the other is an interest-bearing money market sub-account.

To cover your withdrawals, we transfer funds each day from the money market sub-account to the checking sub-account. Each statement period we allocate funds between the 2 sub-accounts. After 6 transfers, all the money from the money market sub-account is transferred to the checking sub-account for the remainder of the period.

Calculating interest

We are required by law to report the interest you earn to the government, so we need your Social Security number (or other written certification) to do so. Otherwise—as required by federal law—we may withhold this interest and pay a portion to the government, and you may face a government penalty.

Giving written notice before withdrawing funds

We want withdrawing funds to be easy and convenient, but under federal regulation, we have the right to require that you give us written notice seven (7) days before withdrawing funds from an interest-bearing account. It’s not often that we require this notice; however, we are allowed to require you to give this notice, even if we have never done so before.

If you request a large cash withdrawal at a branch office, we may require advance notification to ensure an adequate supply of cash is available at the branch.

Our use of check images and substitute checks

We don’t return your original checks, but you can request an image of your cashed checks. Your original check will be taken out of circulation and destroyed once an electronic record of it—either an image or a record of the data—has been created. The bank will then use this electronic record for collection, payment, and return. This is often referred to as the “image exchange process.” Under this Agreement, the image exchange process can be subject to the rules of check clearinghouses, the Federal Reserve or exchange agreements between two (2) or more banks. A check image received or created by us will be considered a “check” or an “item” for purposes of this Agreement and any applicable law.

We may also create or process substitute checks, which are for bank use only. You will rarely have a substitute check, but if you do, you cannot deposit it with us. If you deposit a substitute check with another bank, or transfer a substitute check to another person, you shall not identify us as a “reconverting bank” or “truncating bank” on that document. If you do, you will be required to compensate us for any loss we incur directly or indirectly.

Read the Substitute Check Policy Disclosure in this booklet for more information on this and the Check 21 Act.

Remotely created checks

A remotely created check is one that you authorize—for example, over the phone—but does not have your signature. We may honor a remotely created check that you (or any joint account holder) authorize someone else to create.

If you deposit a remotely created check, and the check is not authorized to be paid in the amount stated on it or to the person to whom it is made out, you will be required to compensate us for any loss we incur as a result.

All the agreements that apply to checks also apply to remotely created checks, except these checks will not have an account holder’s signature on them. If you violate any of these terms, we will require compensation for any loss we incur as a result.

Your personal information; Call recording; Consent for service calls

We will treat personal information about you and your account in accordance with the “PNC Privacy Notice, What Does PNC Do With Your Personal Information?” You agree to cooperate with us in any recordkeeping and reporting which we believe necessary to fulfill government requirements. You consent that any phone call with us may be monitored or recorded by us. By providing telephone number(s) to us, now or at any later time, you authorize PNC and its affiliates and designees to contact you regarding your account(s) with PNC and its affiliates at such numbers using any means, including but not limited to placing calls using an automated dialing system to cell, VoIP or other wireless phone number, or by sending prerecorded messages or text messages, even if charges may be incurred for the calls or text messages.

APPLICABILITY AND EFFECTIVENESS OF THIS AGREEMENT

Providing written notice

If you give us written notice, we consider it effective when we receive it. If we give you written notice, this notice is effective (1) when it is mailed to you at the address on file for your statement, or (2) if you have opted to receive online statements in electronic form, when it is posted on PNC's secure Online Banking web site. (For more information about online amendments and statements, please refer to your Digital Services Agreement.)

Disclosures

Any disclosure statements or policies we give you are considered a part of this agreement.

Agreements for other services

If the terms and conditions for other bank services (such as online banking) conflict with this agreement, the agreement for those bank services will be used instead of this agreement. However, this only applies to the conflicting terms. The rest of the language in this Agreement will still be in effect.

Notices

Any written notice that you give to us is effective when we have actually received it at the designated address and have a reasonable opportunity to act upon it. If applicable state law enables an account holder to modify the terms of an account and/or distribution of funds in an account by providing written notice to PNC, that written notice must be notarized and sent to the following required address: PNC Bank PO Box 609 Pittsburgh, PA 15230-0609. Sending such notices to any other PNC address or location will be deemed failure to provide notice to PNC. PNC reserves the right to require the account to be closed if you wish to modify the terms, the ownership and/or nature of the account. Any written notice that we give to you is effective (1) when it is mailed to you at the address on file for your statement, or (2) if you have opted to receive online statements in electronic form, when it is posted on PNC's secure Online Banking web site. (For more information about online amendments and statements, please refer to your Digital Services Agreement.)

Severability

Except as may be otherwise provided in the Arbitration Provision herein, if a court finds any part of this agreement to be considered invalid, or unenforceable for any reason, the rest of the agreement will continue to be in effect.

Amendments

We reserve the right to amend this agreement (including the right to add new provisions and to convert you from one product to another) and the "PNC Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Features and Fees" (including the right to change charges, fees and the manner in which we calculate and/or credit interest) from time to time. We will inform you of any amendment (1) by mailing notice of the amendment and the amendment itself, in paper form, to the address on file for your statement; or (2) if you have opted to receive online statements in electronic form, by posting the notice of the amendment and the amendment itself on PNC's secure Online Banking web site. If you receive statements in paper form, the amendment will generally appear on your statement. In some cases, notice of the amendment will appear on the statement and the amendment itself will be included on an insert accompanying your statement. If you have opted to receive online statements, the amendment will generally appear as a message on the PDF statement posted on PNC's secure Online Banking web site as well as in the "Messages" section of the site. In some cases, the amendment will be included as a PDF insert on the web site. (For more information about online amendments and statements, please refer to your Digital Services Agreement.) When the amendment becomes effective, we will post the new version of this Agreement online and make the new version available in our branches. An amendment will become effective 30 days (or such later time if required by law) after notice of the amendment is delivered or otherwise made available to you, unless a shorter time period is permitted by applicable law or required because of an emergency situation. If we make changes due to an emergency situation, we will notify you as soon as possible. When we provide notice to a joint account holder, we will consider it sufficient for all account holders. Your continued use of your Virtual Wallet product and the Account(s) that comprise it following the effective date of the Amendment will indicate that you agree to be bound by this agreement, as amended.

Waiver of Terms

We may waive any of these terms and conditions from time to time. To be effective, the waiver must be written, and it must be signed by a bank officer. The fact that we waive a term or condition once, or multiple times, does not mean that we have waived the right permanently, and it does not require us to waive it on any occasion in the future.

Governing Law

Except as may be otherwise provided in the Arbitration Provision herein, this Agreement is governed by the laws and regulations of the state in which the branch or retail office where you opened your Account is located, without regard to such state's choice of law or conflict of law principles. If your Account is opened by mail, initiated by an application taken over the phone, over the internet or electronically, and PNC has a branch or retail office in your state of residence at the time your Account is opened, this Agreement is governed by the laws and regulations of your state of residence when your Account is opened, without regard to such state's choice of law or conflict of law principles. If we do not have a branch or retail office located in your state of residence when your Account is opened, and your Account is opened by mail, initiated by an application taken over the phone, over the internet or electronically, or in person by a PNC representative outside of a branch, then you agree that (i) this Account is deemed to be opened in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, (ii) all applicable funds are deemed to be deposited into and withdrawn or transferred from the Account which is located in Pennsylvania, (iii) our agreement to open this Account, and all decisions we make now and in the future concerning or affecting this Account, occur in Pennsylvania. This Agreement and your Account is and shall therefore be governed by the laws and regulations of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (and will continue to be subject to Pennsylvania laws even if a PNC branch or retail office is subsequently opened in your state) without regard to Pennsylvania choice of law or conflict of law principles. This Agreement is also at all times governed by and may rely upon all applicable preemptions afforded to national banks by the laws and regulations of the United States of America.

INTEREST PAYMENT AND BALANCE COMPUTATION

Your interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields may change. At our discretion, we may change the interest rate(s) and Annual Percentage Yield(s) on your account at any time without notice to you. We set interest rates at our discretion. We reserve the right to set interest rates based on the account, account type, customer, customer relationship, or channel in which the Account is opened.

Interest is compounded monthly and credited on the last day of each monthly statement cycle. If you close your account before interest is credited, you will not receive the accrued interest.

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on your interest-bearing account(s).^{*} This method applies a daily periodic rate to the collected balance in the account each day. The daily periodic rate is 1/365 of the interest rate, or we may use 1/366 in a leap year.

Interest-bearing Spend accounts earn interest on the entire account balance each day at the interest rate and annual percentage yield in effect for the appropriate balance tier.

Interest-bearing Reserve accounts earn interest on the entire account balance each day at the interest rate and annual percentage yield in effect for that day's balance.

Growth accounts earn interest on the entire account balance each day at the interest rate and annual percentage yield in effect for that day's balance on the highest tier the balance reaches.

Interest begins to accrue no later than the business day we receive credit for the deposit of checks and other non-cash items. Interest does not accrue on balances under $1.00.

If you use the combined average monthly balances in your qualifying checking account(s) to avoid the monthly service charge on a Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend or Virtual Wallet with Performance Select account, then on the statement date of your Spend account, we review the average monthly balance for each related account for the current statement cycle.

The average monthly balance is calculated by adding the collected balance in each of your related accounts for each day of the current statement period and dividing that figure by the number of days in the current statement period.

^{*}The Spend account of a Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, and Virtual Wallet Checking Pro does not earn interest. The Spend account of a Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend and Virtual Wallet with Performance Select earns interest. The Reserve account of a Virtual Wallet Checking Pro does not earn interest. The Reserve account of a Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, and Virtual Wallet with Performance Select earns interest. The Growth account of all Virtual Wallet products earns interest.

Note: For product types listed in this section, availability may vary by location.

ARBITRATION PROVISION

READ THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION CAREFULLY: IT WILL IMPACT HOW LEGAL CLAIMS YOU AND WE HAVE AGAINST EACH OTHER ARE RESOLVED. Under the terms of this Arbitration Provision, and except as set forth below, Claims (as defined below) will be resolved by individual (and not class-wide) binding arbitration in accordance with the terms specified herein, if you or we elect it.

YOUR RIGHT TO OPT OUT; EFFECT OF ARBITRATION.

This Arbitration Provision will apply to you and us and to your Account as of the date your Account was opened (or, if you are an existing customer, as of the date of this Agreement), unless you opt out by providing proper and timely notice as set forth below. If a Claim is arbitrated, neither you nor we will have the right to: (1) have a court or a jury decide the Claim; (2) engage in information-gathering (discovery) to the same extent as in court; (3) participate in a class action, private attorney general, or other representative action in court or in arbitration; or (4) join or consolidate a Claim with those of any other person.

This Arbitration Provision will survive the termination of this Agreement. See further details below.

Definitions

“We,” “Us” and “Our.” Solely as used in this Arbitration Provision, the terms “we,” “us” and “our” also refer to (1) our employees, agents, officers, directors, parents, controlling persons, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, acquired entities, successors, and assigns; and (2) any failed bank to the extent of the assets acquired by us or our affiliates.

“Account.” For purposes of this Arbitration Provision, “Account” refers to your personal deposit account or accounts with us and the features and services provided in connection with it or them. Personal deposit accounts include checking accounts, savings accounts, money market deposit accounts, and certificates of deposit. Certificates of deposit and money market deposit accounts held in a retirement account are collectively an “Account.” “Account” also refers, collectively and separately, to the Spend, Reserve and Growth accounts in your Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select, or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro.

“Claim.” A “Claim” subject to arbitration is any demand, cause of action, complaint, claim, asserted right, or request for monetary or equitable relief, whether past, present, or future, and based upon any legal theory, including contract, tort, consumer protection law, fraud, statute, regulation, ordinance, or common law, which arises out of or relates to this Agreement, your Account or Accounts, the events leading up to your becoming an Account holder (for example, advertisements or promotions), any feature or service provided in connection with your Account or Accounts, or any transaction conducted with us related to any of your Accounts.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term “Claim” excludes: (a) any dispute or controversy about the validity, enforceability, coverage, or scope of this Arbitration Provision or any part thereof, including the Class Action Waiver and Public Injunctive Relief Waiver below (a court will decide such disputes or controversies); and (b) any individual action brought by either party in small claims court or your state’s equivalent court, unless such action is transferred, removed, or appealed to a different court. After a Claim is filed with the arbitration administrator, but before an arbitrator is formally appointed to a Claim, a party may send a written notice to the opposing party and the administrator stating that the Claim is within the jurisdiction of small claims court (or an equivalent court) and requesting that that court decide the Claim. Upon receipt of that notice, the administrator will administratively close the case without requiring the payment of filing or any other administrative fees.

Arbitration Procedures

Electing Arbitration of Claims. Except if you opt out as provided below, you or we may elect to arbitrate any Claim. The election may be made by submitting a written Notice of Arbitration (“Notice”) in accordance with the terms herein. Or, if a lawsuit asserting a Claim is filed in court, the other party may elect arbitration in the lawsuit (for example, a motion by the defendant to compel arbitration). If you or we commence litigation of a Claim, neither you nor we waive our right to elect to arbitrate any counterclaim or other Claim that you or we may make.

Notice Requirements. If you or we elect to arbitrate a Claim, the claimant must provide the other party with written Notice before commencing arbitration. Notice to us shall be sent to PNC Bank, N.A., Legal Department, PNC Tower (18th Floor), 300 Fifth Avenue, Mailstop: PT-PTWR-18-1, Pittsburgh, PA 15222, Attn: Notice of Arbitration (the “Notice Address”). Our Notice to you shall be sent to the most recent address for you in our files. The Notice must be clearly marked “Notice of Arbitration” and contain the claimant’s name, telephone number, mailing address, e-mail address, the Account number of any Account at issue, a description of the nature and basis of the dispute, the relief sought by the claimant, and the claimant's signature. To safeguard your Account, if you have retained counsel to submit the Notice, your Notice must include your signed statement authorizing us to share information about the Account and the Claim with your counsel.

The noticing party must provide the other party 45 days from receipt of the Notice in order to provide the parties a meaningful opportunity to resolve the dispute in an informal, prompt, mutually beneficial manner. During this period, any applicable statutes of limitations or contractual limitations periods will be tolled. The arbitration administrator may not accept or administer an arbitration nor assess fees until the expiration of the 45-day period. Either party may seek court intervention regarding the initiation of arbitration or the assessment of fees in connection with such arbitration.

Arbitration administrator and rules. The arbitration will be administered by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") under its rules for consumer arbitrations. The AAA rules and forms may be obtained by contacting AAA at 1-800-778-7879 or visiting www.adr.org. AAA will apply its rules and codes of procedures in effect at the time arbitration is elected including, if applicable, AAA's Supplementary Rules for Multiple Case Filings. If AAA is unable or unwilling to administer the arbitration in accordance with this Arbitration Provision, the parties may agree on another administrator or, if there is no agreement, a court with jurisdiction may appoint one. The arbitrator may, as appropriate, hold hearings in person, by telephone or videoconference, or decide Claims based on papers submitted by the parties. Any in-person arbitration hearing will take place in a venue in the county where you reside unless you and we agree otherwise.

Arbitration costs. The parties shall pay filing, administrative, and arbitrator fees in accordance with the administrator's rules, unless applicable law requires a different allocation. This means that you will be responsible for paying your share of the administrator's filing fees unless you obtain a waiver of fees from the administrator. However, if you send us a written signed request at our Notice Address requesting that we pay your share of the fees and stating that you tried but were unable to obtain a fee waiver after submitting the documentation required by the administrator, and if your request is made in good faith, we will pay or reimburse you for your share of the filing fees charged by the administrator.

What law the arbitrator will apply. The arbitrator will not be bound by judicial rules of procedure and evidence that would apply in a court, or by state or local laws that relate to arbitration proceedings. However, the arbitrator will apply the same statutes of limitation, evidentiary privileges, and applicable substantive law that a court would apply if the matter were pending in court. The arbitrator may consider rulings in arbitrations involving other customers, but an arbitrator's ruling will not be binding in proceedings involving different customers. In addition, the arbitrator has the same power as a federal court to impose sanctions against any represented party or counsel for any violation of the standards of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 11(b) or 28 U.S.C. § 1927.

The arbitrator's decision and award. At the timely request of either party, the arbitrator shall provide a brief written explanation of the grounds for the decision. The arbitrator may award any damages or other relief or remedies (including statutory awards of attorneys' fees) available under applicable law, as limited in the Class Action Waiver and Public Injunctive Relief Waiver below, in an individual action brought in court. If the arbitrator finds that you or we have violated the standards of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 11(b) or 28 U.S.C. § 1927, if permitted by applicable law, the arbitrator may reallocate compensation, expenses, and administrative fees (which include filing and hearing fees) as justice requires.

Effect of arbitration Award; appeal. The arbitrator's award shall be final and binding on all parties, except for any right of judicial review provided by the Federal Arbitration Act.

Federal Arbitration Act

This Agreement evidences a transaction in interstate commerce, and thus the Federal Arbitration Act governs the interpretation and enforcement of this Arbitration Provision.

CLASS ACTION WAIVER

If either you or we elect to arbitrate a Claim, neither you nor we will have the right: (a) to participate in a class action, private attorney general action or other representative action in court or in arbitration, either as a class representative or class member; or (b) to join or consolidate Claims with claims of any other persons (except for co-account owners). No arbitrator shall have authority to conduct any arbitration in violation of this provision or to issue any relief (including damages, restitution, or declaratory relief) that applies to any person or entity other than you and/or us individually. The parties acknowledge that this Class Action Waiver is material and essential to the arbitration of any Claims and is non-severable from this Arbitration Provision. If (after exhaustion of all appeals) a court finds that this Class Action Waiver is unenforceable, then any non-arbitrable aspects of the Claims will proceed in court after all other arbitrable aspects of the Claims are arbitrated. The parties acknowledge and agree that under no circumstances will a class action be arbitrated.

PUBLIC INJUNCTIVE RELIEF WAIVER

If either you or we elect to arbitrate a Claim, neither you nor we will have the right to seek a public injunction, if such a waiver is permitted by the FAA. If (after exhaustion of all appeals) a court decides that this Public Injunctive Relief Waiver is unenforceable, any request for a public injunction will be decided in court after all other Claims are arbitrated. In no event will an arbitrator be permitted to issue a public injunction.

Conflicts; Severability; Survival

In the event of a conflict between the provisions of this Arbitration Provision and the AAA rules, or any other terms of the Agreement, the provisions of this Arbitration Provision shall control. If any part of this Arbitration Provision is deemed or found to be unenforceable for any reason, the remainder shall be enforceable, except as provided by the Class Action Waiver or Public Injunctive Relief Waiver. This Arbitration Provision shall survive (1) the closing of your Account and the termination of any relationship between us, including the termination of the Agreement, and (2) survive any bankruptcy to the extent consistent with applicable bankruptcy law.

RIGHT TO OPT OUT

You may opt out of arbitration by sending us a written notice (the "Opt Out Notice"). To be effective, an Opt Out Notice must (1) include the Account holder name, address, phone number, and Account number(s); (2) state that you are opting out of the Arbitration Provision in your Account Agreement for the listed Account numbers; (3) be sent to us at PNC Bank, Attn: Arbitration Opt Out, P.O. Box 535229, Pittsburgh, PA 15253-5229; (4) be signed personally by all account owners; and (5) be postmarked within forty-five (45) days after either (i) the date we first delivered or otherwise provided you with an arbitration provision, in paper or electronic form, or (ii) the day you open your Account, whichever is later. Your decision to opt out will not affect any other term in this Account Agreement. If the Arbitration Provision of your Account Agreement has already been delivered or otherwise made available to you, amendments to your Account Agreement will not give you a new right to opt out of this Arbitration Provision, unless we amend a substantive clause of the Arbitration Provision.

SUBSTITUTE CHECKS AND YOUR RIGHTS

(IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT CONSUMER CHECKING AND MONEY MARKET ACCOUNTS)

What is a substitute check?

To make check processing faster, federal law permits banks to replace original checks with "substitute checks." These checks are similar in size to original checks with a slightly reduced image of the front and back of the original check. The front of a substitute check states: "This is a legal copy of your check. You can use it the same way you would use the original check." You may use a substitute check as proof of payment just like the original check.

Some or all of the checks that you receive back from us may be substitute checks. This notice describes rights you have when you receive substitute checks from us. The rights in this notice do not apply to original checks or to electronic debits to your account. However, you have rights under other law with respect to those transactions.

What are my rights regarding substitute checks?

In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you suffer if a substitute check is posted to your account (for example, if you think that we withdrew the wrong amount from your account or that we withdrew money from your account more than once for the same check). The losses you may attempt to recover under this procedure may include the amount that was withdrawn from your account and fees that were charged as a result of the withdrawal (for example, overdraft fees).

The amount of your refund under this procedure is limited to the amount of your loss or the amount of the substitute check, whichever is less. You also are entitled to interest on the amount of your refund if your account is an interest-bearing account. If your loss exceeds the amount of the substitute check, you may be able to recover additional amounts under other law.

If you use this procedure, you may receive up to $2,500 of your refund (plus interest if your account earns interest) within 10 business days after we received your claim and the remainder of your refund (plus interest if your account earns interest) not later than 45 calendar days after we received your claim.

We may reverse the refund (including any interest on the refund) if we later are able to demonstrate that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account.

How do I make a claim for a refund?

If you believe that you have suffered a loss relating to a substitute check that you received and that was posted to your account, please contact us:

- By phone at 1-888-PNC-BANK (1-888-762-2265). For our Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing Customers PNC accepts Telecommunications Relay Service (TRS) calls.
- Write us at: PNC Bank/Adjustments, P7-PFSC-02-C, 500 First Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15219
- Or contact us via Online Banking or the Mobile Banking App.

You must contact us within 40 calendar days of the date that we mailed (or otherwise delivered by a means to which you agreed) the substitute check in question or the account statement showing that the substitute check was posted to your account, whichever is later. We will extend this time period if you were not able to make a timely claim because of extraordinary circumstances. If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your claim in writing within 10 business days.

Your claim must include:

- A description of why you have suffered a loss (for example, you think the amount withdrawn was incorrect);
- An estimate of the amount of your loss;
- An explanation of why the substitute check you received is insufficient to confirm that you suffered a loss; and
- A copy of the substitute check or the following information to help us identify the substitute check: account number, check number, amount of the check, date the check was paid or posted to your account, the reference number for the check (if known), name of the person to whom you wrote the check, and any other pertinent information.

CONSUMER FUNDS AVAILABILITY POLICY

Introducing Our Funds Availability Policy

When you deposit checks and similar items to your PNC Bank account, you expect us to make the funds available for your use as quickly as possible. Our Funds Availability Policy is designed to do just that. Depending on the type of non-cash deposit you make, your funds may be available as quickly as the next business day. Of course, depending on the amount, type and source of your non-cash deposit, there are situations when your deposit will take longer to become available for your use.

Our Funds Availability Policy provides detailed information about when funds you deposit will become available for your use. This policy is in effect for accounts opened in all PNC Bank markets.

Please take a moment to review this Policy. By understanding how we make your deposits of non-cash items available, it will be easier for you to manage your account and realize all the benefits of banking with PNC Bank.

Determining Availability of a Deposit

We determine availability by counting the number of business days from the business day of your deposit. Every day except Saturday, Sunday and a federal holiday is a business day.

If a deposit is received through one of our branch tellers, ATM, mobile device, remote deposit scanner, electronic deposit (i.e. ACH, Zelle®, Real-Time Payments), or by mail before our cut-off time, we will consider that day to be the day of your deposit. However, if a deposit is received after our cut-off time or on a day that is not a business day, we will consider the deposit as being received on the next business day that we are open. Our cut-off time is 10:00 p.m. ET.

Further, deposits made through our night depository after 6:00 a.m. ET may be processed on the next business day.

Availability varies depending on the type of deposit and is explained below.

Checks drawn on banks located outside of the United States are not subject to this availability Policy. Please inquire regarding availability at the time you make such deposits.

Initial $100 of Your Deposit

The initial $100 of any deposit will be available on the evening of your deposit to pay checks or items that are presented to us that evening for posting. The balance of the $100, if any, will be available on the first business day after the business day of your deposit for all purposes. The remaining balance of your total deposit will be available depending on the type of deposit, as described in the availability provisions for each deposit as otherwise stated in this Policy. (Please see exception noted in "Special Rules for New PNC High Yield Savings Accounts Opened Online" in this Policy.)

Same-Day Availability

Funds from the following deposits are available on the same business day as the day of their deposit if received prior to our cut-off time of 10:00 p.m. ET:

- All cash deposits made to a PNC Bank teller and PNC ATMs equipped with currency validation technology
- All cash deposits made at a Non-PNC ATM equipped with currency validation technology.
- Checks or money orders drawn on PNC Bank will be available on the evening of your deposit to pay checks or items that are presented to us that evening for posting.
- Wire Transfers
- Online Banking Transfers
- Electronic deposits, including but not limited to ACH, Zelle, Real-Time Payments, etc.
- Check deposits approved using PNC Express Funds

Deposits received after our cut-off time of 10:00 p.m. ET, or on a day that is not a business day, may be available for immediate withdrawal; however, we will consider the deposit as being received on the next business day to pay checks and other items that are presented to us that evening for posting.

Note: Following is our general Funds Availability Policy; however, please refer to our “Large Dollar Deposits” section below for availability of deposits that equal or exceed $50,000 and to the “Special Rules for New Account Holders” section for availability of deposits for new account holders, and the “Special Rules for New PNC High Yield Savings Accounts Opened Online” section.

Next-Day Availability

If a deposit of checks or money orders is received before the cut-off time on a business day that we are open, funds from your deposit of checks or money orders will be available as follows:

- Checks or money orders drawn on PNC Bank will be available on the evening of your deposit to pay checks or items that are presented to us that evening for posting. The remaining funds will be available on the first business day after the business day of your deposit for all purposes.
- All other deposits of checks or money orders will be available on the first business day after the business day of your deposit for all purposes.

Large Dollar Deposits

If your total deposits of checks, excluding the items listed in the “Items Excluded from Large Dollar Deposit Calculation” section later in this Policy, on any one business day, prior to our cut-off time, equal or exceed $50,000, then, $100 of any deposit will be available on the evening of your deposit to pay checks or items that are presented to us that evening for posting, an additional $400 will be available the first business day after the business day of your deposit for all purposes, and any remaining funds will be available the second business day after the business day of deposit for all purposes.

As an example, if your total deposit equals or exceeds $50,000:

2-Day Availability (Eligible deposits of checks or money orders)

Day of deposit	1st business day	2nd business day

You are required to separate checks requiring special deposit tickets from other checks you are depositing. If you do not use a special deposit ticket for checks as noted above, or if you use a special deposit ticket inappropriately, your check deposit will be treated like any other check.

Special Rules for New PNC High Yield Savings Accounts Opened Online

When you open a new High Yield Savings account through PNC Online Banking, we will place an initial hold on the Account for a period that will not exceed 5 business days, beginning with the business day on which your online application is completed (or next business day if application completed on a non-business day). Deposits made during this period will not be available during this period for any purpose. When the initial hold is removed from your Account, funds from your deposits, including deposits made during the initial hold period, will be available according to the other provisions of this Policy.

Special Rules for New Account Holders

For purposes of this Funds Availability Policy, a "new account holder" is defined as a customer who does not have a PNC Bank checking account that has been open for more than 30 calendar days. If you are a new account holder, the following rules will apply when a deposit is made during the first 30 calendar days your Account is open. All deposits not discussed in this section will be available as described elsewhere in this Policy.

- A. Funds from travelers checks deposited with a special deposit ticket, funds from deposits outlined as items "f" through "j" in the "Items Excluded from Large Dollar Deposit Calculation" section above, and $400 from deposited checks or items will be available on the first business day after the business day of your deposit for all purposes.
- B. Funds from checks will be available on the second business day after the business day of your deposit for all purposes.

After the new account period has ended, funds from your deposits will be available according to our general policy.

Longer Delays May Apply

Funds you deposit by check may be delayed for a longer period under the following circumstances:

- We believe a check you deposited will not be paid.
- You deposit checks totaling $50,000 or more on any one business day.
- You redeposit a check that has been returned unpaid.
- You have overdrawn your account repeatedly in the last six months.
- There is an emergency such as a failure of communications or computer equipment.

We will notify you of the delay in your ability to withdraw funds for any of the reasons listed, and we will tell you when the funds will be available. In this case, funds from the deposit of checks will usually be available no later than the fifth business day after the business day of your deposit for all purposes.

Other restrictions are set forth in the Electronic Funds Transfer Disclosure Statement Brochure.

Refusal of a Deposit

We continue to reserve the right not to accept deposits. In some circumstances, items unacceptable for deposit, such as a mutilated check, may be processed as collection items.

Accelerated Availability

If you make a deposit of checks or money orders on a business day that we are open, we may make part of your deposit available to you sooner than otherwise stated in this Policy. The balance of your deposit will become available according to the other terms of this Policy.

Endorsement

It is important that you place your endorsement carefully on the back of all checks you are depositing. A 1½ inch area has been designated for your endorsement. Please ask your PNC Bank customer service representative about proper placement of your endorsement. If your endorsement is illegible because you have endorsed the check in the wrong location, you will be liable for any resulting losses.

Your Responsibility

You agree that PNC Bank may deduct the amount of a deposited check from your account balance if PNC Bank receives notice that the check has not been paid. PNC Bank may make this deduction even if the unpaid check has not yet been returned to the Bank. You agree that PNC Bank may charge an unpaid check against your Account even if PNC Bank could claim reimbursement for the check from the bank on which the check was drawn or from some other bank. You agree that PNC Bank may charge a check back even if the charge results in an overdraft.

If you have any further questions about this Funds Availability Policy, please contact your local branch or call us at 1-888-PNC-BANK (1-888-762-2265).

Disclosures of your rights and obligations

Consumers' Liability for Unauthorized Transactions

Contact information for reporting lost or stolen cards is provided at the end of this statement.

Tell us AT ONCE if you believe your card and/or Personal Identification Number ("PIN") has been lost or stolen or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made without your permission. Telephoning is the best way of keeping your possible losses down. You could lose all the money in your checking or savings accounts to which you have access, plus your maximum overdraft line of credit or the balance in any other account connected to your account for overdraft protection. If you tell us promptly after you learn of the loss or theft of your card or an unauthorized transaction, you will not incur any loss or liability if someone used your card or made a transfer without your permission. Also, if your statement shows transfers that you did not make, tell us at once. If you do not tell us within 60 days after the statement was mailed to you, you may not get back any money you lost after the 60 days if we can prove that we could have stopped someone from making the transfer if you had told us in time.

- a. If a good reason (such as a long trip or a hospital stay) kept you from telling us, we will extend the time periods.
- b. Our business days include every day except Saturday, Sunday and a federal holiday.
- c. If you believe your card or PIN has been lost or stolen or that someone has transferred or may transfer money from your checking or savings account without your permission, call the phone number or write to the address shown at the end of this disclosure statement.

You may call us at the telephone number shown at the end of this disclosure statement if you need additional information on your limits. Additionally, you may be able to withdraw cash only in certain multiples, as indicated at each ATM. Disclosure of right to receive documentation of transfers

1. You can get a receipt at the time you perform a transfer with your card.
2. If you have arranged to have direct deposits made to your account at least once every 60 days from the same person or company, you can call the phone number shown at the end of this disclosure statement to find out whether or not the deposit has been made.

3. You will get a checking or money market account statement monthly. You will also get a monthly savings account statement unless there were no transfers to or from your savings account in a particular month. In any case, you will get the savings account statement at least quarterly.

Disclosures of charges for transfers or right to make transfers

There are charges for certain card transactions or the right to perform such transactions. These charges are explained in the applicable Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select, or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Features and Fees, which may be amended from time to time.

Disclosure of right to stop payment on preauthorized transfers

If you have told us in advance to make regular payments out of your account, you can stop any of these payments. Here's how:

1. Call the phone number or write to the address shown at the end of this disclosure statement in time for us to receive your request three (3) business days or more before the payment is scheduled to be made. Be sure to tell us the name of the person or company to whom the payment is scheduled to be made and the amount of the payment you wish to stop. If you call, we may also require you to put your request in writing and get it to us within 14 calendar days after you call. You will be charged for each stop-payment order you give in accordance with our current applicable schedule of services and fees. If a payment is made to the payee/merchant electronically, and the funds have already been deducted from your account, it is not possible to stop payment. Likewise, if payment is made to a payee/merchant via check and the check has already been cashed by the payee/merchant, you may not stop payment.
2. If you order us to stop one of these preauthorized recurring payments three (3) business days or more before the transfer is scheduled, and we do not do so, we will be liable for your direct losses or damages.
3. You understand that you may not place stop payment orders on any transfers originated by use of a card except for arrangements made with merchants or payees for recurring payments.

Disclosure of right to receive notice of varying amounts

If these regular payments may vary in amount, we or the person you are going to pay will tell you 10 days before each payment when it will be made and how much it will be. You may choose instead to get this notice only when the payment would differ by more than a certain amount from the previous payment, or when the amount would fall outside certain limits that you set.

Disclosure of Bank's liability for failure to make transfers

If we do not complete a transfer to or from your account on time or in the correct amount in accordance with the General Provisions section below, we will be liable for your direct losses or damages. However, there are some exceptions. We will not be liable, for instance:

- a. If, through no fault of ours, you do not have enough money in your account to make the transfer
- b. If the transfer will go over the credit limit on your overdraft line, if you have one
- c. If the transfer will exceed the limitations on your savings or money market account
- d. If the ATM where you are making the transfer does not have enough cash
- e. If the terminal or system was not working properly and you knew about the breakdown when you started the transfer
- f. If circumstances beyond our control (such as interruption of telephone service or telecommunications facilities, fire or flood) prevent the transfer, despite reasonable precautions that we have taken
- g. If you have not provided us with complete and correct payment information, including without limitation the name, address, account number and payment amount for the payee on a bill payment
- h. If your operating system was not functioning properly
- i. If the transfer cannot be made because of legal restrictions affecting your account

Disclosure of account information to third parties

We will disclose information to third parties about your account or the transfers you make under the following circumstances:

- a. Where it is necessary for completing transfers
- b. In order to verify the existence and condition of your account for a third party such as, for example, a credit bureau, a merchant or another financial institution

- c. In order to comply with government agency or court orders, or investigations or examinations by our bank regulators
- d. In the investigation or prosecution of alleged fraudulent activity concerning your accounts
- e. If you give us your permission
- f. As you may have otherwise authorized in other agreements with us

In case of errors or questions about your Electronic Transfers

Visit a branch, inquire through Online Banking, call the telephone number or write us to the address shown at the end of this disclosure statement as soon as you can if you think your statement or receipt is wrong, or if you need more information about a transfer listed on the statement or receipt. We must hear from you no later than 60 days after we sent you the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appeared.

- 1. Tell us your name and account number (if any).
- 2. Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe it is an error or why you need more information.
- 3. Tell us the dollar amount of the suspected error.

If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your complaint or question in writing within 10 business days.

We will determine whether an error occurred within 10 business days after we hear from you and will correct any error promptly. If we need more time, however, we may take up to 45 calendar days, (for PIN point-of-sale transactions and/or Non-PIN transactions up to 90 calendar days) to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will provisionally credit your account within 10 business days for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have the use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing and we do not receive it within 10 business days, we may not provisionally credit your account or we may reverse any credit previously made to your account. (NOTE: Please see the Special Rules for New Accounts and Special Rules for Foreign Initiated Transactions sections below for additional information.) We will tell you the results within three (3) business days after completing our investigation. If we decide that there was no error, we will reverse any credits made and will send you a written explanation. You may ask for copies of the documents that we used in our investigation.

Special Rules for New Accounts:

For errors involving new accounts, we may take up to 20 business days to provisionally credit your account for the amount you think is in error, and we may take up to 90 days to investigate your complaint or question.

Special Rules for Foreign Initiated Transactions:

For errors involving foreign initiated transactions (transfers initiated outside of the United States), we may take up to 90 days to investigate your complaint or question.

General provisions

- 1. The signing of a signature card, your request for a card, the use of a card, the use of Online Banking services and/or the use of Online Banking through Quicken® shall mean that you agree to the content of this Agreement and to any modification thereof. Any such modification shall become effective and be binding 15 calendar days (or such later time if required by law) after notice of the modification is posted in our banking centers, or by such other method of notice as we may deem appropriate or as may be specifically required by applicable law.
- 2. If you enter into an agreement with someone other than us to have direct deposits made into your account or to have automatic payments made from your account, we will not be obligated to you to accept such deposits or to make such payments and may at our option reject them unless we have received notification in advance satisfactory to us regarding such deposits or payments. Certain types of deposits, including but not limited to checks that are second endorsed or are not properly endorsed, cannot be accepted at our ATMs. We reserve the right to reject such deposits. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we reserve the right to refuse or to return all or part of a deposit at any time.
- 3. Final credit of all transfers, deposits and payments made by you at an ATM is subject to verification by us of the actual amounts deposited and paid (including conversion rates for foreign currencies), notwithstanding the figure shown on the receipt you received at the time of deposit or payment. Funds from any deposits (cash or check) made by you at the ATM will be available to you pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Consumer Funds Availability Policy, which is included in your account information package. Where available, any bill payment made at an ATM shall be subject to verification of the amounts deposited for payment, and shall not be delivered to the payee until such verification is completed, which, along with the time necessary for transmittal of the payment to the merchant, may take up to three (3) business days.

4. Other loans made to you as a result of transactions by you at an ATM (such as an advance from your overdraft line of credit, if you have one) are repayable, together with all charges due on such advances or loans, as provided in the terms and conditions of your loan agreement, as it may be amended from time to time.

OVERDRAFT PROTECTION AGREEMENT

Overdraft Protection: This Agreement provides the terms and conditions of the PNC Bank Overdraft Protection service. Please read this Agreement and keep it with your important account information.

If you have a Virtual Wallet product and you have Spend, Reserve, and Growth accounts, your Spend account will automatically have Overdraft Protection and the Reserve and Growth accounts will serve as the first and second PROTECTING ACCOUNTS, respectively, for the Spend account. If you have a Virtual Wallet product with a Spend account only, your Spend account will not have Overdraft Protection automatically and you will need to set up another eligible PNC account as a PROTECTING ACCOUNT. Please read this Agreement and keep it with your important account information.

1. I/we, have designated certain of my/our account(s) as PROTECTING ACCOUNT(S) for the purpose of adding overdraft protection service and have authorized PNC Bank to apply this service to my/our designated PROTECTED ACCOUNT. If PNC has determined that sufficient funds are not available in the PROTECTED ACCOUNT to cover account withdrawals, PNC Bank will automatically transfer funds or credit from the PROTECTING ACCOUNT(S) as follows:
 - A. If there are sufficient funds to cover some but not all of my/our overdrafts, PNC Bank will exercise its discretion (i) in paying some but not all of the items and (ii) to pay items drawn on the PROTECTED ACCOUNT in any order convenient to PNC Bank.

PNC Bank's general practice is to first add deposits (credits) to my/our Account, and then subtract withdrawals (debits) from my/our Account. Transactions are ordered according to the date and time the bank receives notice of the transaction. PNC Bank receives notice of transactions at various times throughout the day, and not necessarily in the order in which they occur. If multiple transactions are received at the same time, or are grouped together and contain no time, then the items will be processed in order of sequence number or, if no sequence number is available, largest-to-smallest dollar amount. If PNC Bank does not have information that allows it to determine the exact time notice of a transaction was received, PNC Bank may assign an approximated time to that transaction.

Debit card purchases will be posted according to the date and time provided by the merchant. Because processing times vary, the time PNC Bank receives notice of a transaction may differ from the time shown on a receipt.

The order of payment may affect the total number of items paid and/or returned and/or the amount of overdraft fees charged.

- B. At such time or times that PNC Bank determines that the PROTECTED ACCOUNT has insufficient funds, PNC Bank will transfer to the PROTECTED ACCOUNT an amount sufficient to pay all items creating the insufficient balance first from funds or credit available in the first designated PROTECTING ACCOUNT, and, if an overdraft still exists, from funds or credit available in the second PROTECTING ACCOUNT, if a second PROTECTING ACCOUNT has been designated. If the PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a line of credit or credit card account, the amount transferred will be rounded upward to the next whole dollar. In rare circumstances, the amount transferred may overdraw the PROTECTING ACCOUNT if transactions are posted to the PROTECTING ACCOUNT after the transfer amount has been determined.
 - C. For Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select and Virtual Wallet Checking Pro customers with overdraft transfers from the Reserve or Growth account (if you have one), the automatic transfer is the amount of the Overdraft in the Spend account. (Account availability may vary by location.) For overdraft transfers from a credit card or Line of Credit, the minimum transfer will be $50.00.
 - D. This is not an extension of credit. If the PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a deposit account, PNC Bank shall not be obligated to transfer funds to the PROTECTED ACCOUNT if such a transfer will exceed the funds available in the deposit account. If the PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a credit card account, PNC Bank shall not be obligated to transfer funds to the PROTECTED ACCOUNT if the credit card account is in default, if your credit card account is closed or suspended, or if the transfer would exceed the credit card account's cash advance limit. If the PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a line of credit account, PNC Bank shall not be obligated to transfer funds to the PROTECTED ACCOUNT if the line of credit account is in default, if your line of credit account is closed or suspended, or if the transfer will cause the balance on the line of credit account to exceed the Maximum Credit. PNC Bank shall not be obligated to transfer funds to the PROTECTED ACCOUNT if the transfer will in any way violate the terms of the agreement(s) which governs the PROTECTING ACCOUNT(S). Finally, a scheduled transfer between PNC accounts will not be processed if the account (checking, savings, or money market) from which the funds are being transferred does not have sufficient funds, even if that account is set up with overdraft protection.
 - E. Balances for all types of PROTECTING ACCOUNTS are available for nightly processing of items, for transactions process by branch tellers, and for point of sale or ATM online authorizations.
 - F. If there is a hold on your PROTECTED or PROTECTING ACCOUNT(S), we may not complete an Overdraft Protection Transfer from the PROTECTING ACCOUNT, even if sufficient funds exist in the PROTECTING ACCOUNT. Additionally, if we place a hold on your PROTECTED ACCOUNT, PNC may discontinue the Overdraft Protection relationship between the PROTECTED and PROTECTING ACCOUNTS. If the hold is removed, the Overdraft Protection relationship will not be re-established automatically and you will need to take action to re-establish the Overdraft Protection.
 - G. I/we may from time to time contact PNC Bank to request a modification of this agreement by adding or substituting a different account as PROTECTING ACCOUNT 1 or 2. PNC Bank reserves the right to accept such modification of this Agreement or to require that a new Agreement be executed.
2. I/we understand that if any PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a line of credit or credit card account, any transfers that are made from such an account for purposes of overdraft protection will be subject to the terms of the line of credit agreement or credit card agreement, as applicable, including all rules, fees and other disclosures made with the agreement as well as any applicable fees set forth in PNC Bank's Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Features and Fees. If the PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a credit card account, this credit card may be a PNC-branded card issued by a third party card issuer, and I authorize PNC Bank and such issuer to share information necessary to process my overdraft protection transactions and administer this overdraft service. I authorize PNC Bank to update the credit card account number for my PROTECTING ACCOUNT if such issuer provides PNC Bank with a new credit card account number for me/us.

3. I/we understand that if any PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a checking, savings or money market deposit account, any transfers that are made from such an account for purposes of overdraft protection will be subject to the terms of the applicable Account Agreement for Consumer Checking, Savings and Money Market Accounts, or Account Agreement for Your Virtual Wallet, and PNC Bank's Consumer Schedule of Service Charges and Fees, or Virtual Wallet, Virtual Wallet Student, Virtual Wallet with Performance Spend, Virtual Wallet with Performance Select or Virtual Wallet Checking Pro Features and Fees, as applicable, together with any other disclosures provided in connection with the account. I/we understand that transfers made from any checking, savings or money market deposit account will count towards any applicable transaction limitations set forth in the Account Agreement for Consumer Checking, Savings and Money Market Accounts, or Account Agreement for Your Virtual Wallet, including limitations on preauthorized transfers (including telephone and automatic transfers) each monthly service charge period.
4. This authorization may be modified and/or terminated at any time by PNC Bank upon notice to me/us, and I/we understand that it will terminate automatically without notice if all PROTECTING ACCOUNTS are closed. If any PROTECTING ACCOUNT is a Home Equity Line of Credit account, then this authorization with respect to such account may not be terminated by PNC Bank except in accordance with my/our Home Equity Line of Credit account agreement.

Low Cash Mode Terms and Conditions

Low Cash Mode is a set of account tools that will become available in the PNC Mobile App for your Virtual Wallet Spend account. Additionally, this experience includes overdraft pricing changes and Extra Time to fund your account when it is overdrawn (refer to details below).

The Terms and Conditions of Low Cash Mode follow. Low Cash Mode availability varies by market and product and is at PNC's discretion. By using your Virtual Wallet, you agree to the Low Cash Mode terms and conditions.

Low Cash Mode Overview:

Low Cash Mode (LCM) is a set of account tools to provide you with more options for managing your Virtual Wallet Spend account when the available balance is lower than a dollar threshold that you have set or when the available balance is negative. Low Cash Mode includes pricing changes applied to your Virtual Wallet Spend account, as well as enhanced features, which are only available in the PNC mobile app, as described in further detail below.

Low Cash Mode includes:

- The option to set up an enhanced set of alerts and edit your default alert settings (by default, PNC will establish alerts for your primary email based on a $50 available balance threshold);
- Extra Time to fund your Virtual Wallet Spend account before Overdraft Item fees are assessed;
- The Extra Time Clock, to let you know how much Extra Time you have remaining;
- a "Payment Control" feature to allow you to review and manage pay/return decisions on certain check payments and items that are processed through the Automated Clearing House (ACH) using your account and routing number when your Virtual Wallet Spend account is overdrawn.

NOTE: Low Cash Mode is not available on your Reserve account or your Growth account. All references to "Account" apply to your Virtual Wallet Spend account unless otherwise specified.

If your Account is overdrawn at the time that Low Cash Mode becomes available to you, Extra Time will not be available until you increase your Account's available balance to at least $0. When Low Cash Mode becomes available to you, we will establish default Low Cash Mode settings. You can go into your PNC Mobile app and change those settings at any time.

To receive Low Cash Mode alerts, you must provide a valid email address, either at account opening, in online banking, or in the PNC Mobile app. If you want to customize your alert preferences, you can do so in the PNC Mobile app.

If you set up your alert preferences and provide valid contact information, we will alert you when the available balance on your Account becomes negative or becomes less than the threshold you have specified. If your Account is a joint account, any owner or signer can establish or change the threshold for the Account. This threshold will be the threshold for all owners and signers on the Account. If you choose not to set up your alert preferences, you can obtain information about your available balance in any of our customer service channels. You are responsible for providing accurate and up-to-date contact information.

Please refer to your Virtual Wallet Features and Fees for the full details of the different pricing and fees for Overdraft and Returned Items (also known as Non-Sufficient Funds or NSF) applicable to your Account.

If you change your product from a Virtual Wallet Spend account to another PNC deposit product, you will lose access to Low Cash Mode, including Extra Time and Payment Control, and the fees and charges applicable to your new product will apply, including any applicable Overdraft fees.

Extra Time:

PNC Extra Time consists of two main components: 1.) additional time (Extra Time) to fund your Account to avoid Overdraft Item fees; and, 2.) the Extra Time Clock, which will appear in your PNC Mobile app to show you the amount of Extra Time remaining to fund your account.

At PNC, a “business day” is every day except Saturday, Sunday and a federal holiday. With Extra Time, if your Account becomes overdrawn on a business day, you have until 10 p.m. Eastern Time on the next business day to bring your available balance to at least $0 to avoid an Overdraft Item fee. If your Account becomes overdrawn after 10 p.m. Eastern Time on Friday or on a non-business day, you have until 10 p.m. Eastern Time the second business day after the Account is overdrawn to bring your available balance to at least $0 to avoid an Overdraft Item fee. If you bring the available balance on your Account to at least $0 before the end of your Extra Time period, we will not charge the Overdraft Item fees that were incurred during that period.

Your Extra Time period begins when the available balance in your Account becomes negative and will end when you bring the available balance in your Account to at least $0 or when your Extra Time period expires. In order to avoid fees, you must bring the available balance in your Account to at least $0 before your Extra Time expires. If you make a deposit, the time it takes for your deposit to be reflected in your available balance and for those funds to become available to you will vary based on the deposit type and time. Depending on your deposit type or your deposit time, your deposit may not be available before your Extra Time period expires. Generally, if a deposit is received before our 10 p.m. Eastern Time cut-off time on a business day, we will consider that to be the day of deposit. However, if a deposit is received after our cut-off time or on a day that is not a business day, we will consider the deposit as being received on the next business day that we are open. Refer to PNC’s Consumer Funds Availability policy to determine when your deposit may be available.

If you are a PNC Mobile app user, the Extra Time Clock will be visible on your Low Cash Mode Dashboard. The Extra Time Clock will show you how much time remains before your Extra Time period expires. This is how much time you have to bring the available balance in your Account to at least $0 before incurring an Overdraft Item Fee.

If you have not increased the available balance in your Account to at least $0 before your Extra Time period expires, your Account may be assessed an Overdraft Item fee for each business day on which the ending available balance is negative and on which you made or authorized new withdrawals from your Account that contributed to the negative available balance. Additional withdrawals from your Account that contribute to the negative amount of your available balance will not restart your Extra Time clock or change the amount of time available in your Extra Time period. As a result, the amount required to increase the available balance in your Account to at least $0 may be greater than the amount that was required at the beginning of your Extra Time period.

If you set up Low Cash Mode alerts, you can choose to receive alerts when the available balance in your Account becomes negative. The timing of your negative balance or other alerts will not impact the amount of time in your Extra Time Period. If you do not set up Low Cash Mode alerts, PNC will not send you alerts or notifications for Low Cash Mode, including alerts or notices related to Extra Time.

Please note that while Extra Time gives you additional time to avoid an Overdraft Item fee, Extra Time does not pause or delay any reporting regarding negative balance, items returned due to insufficient funds, or overdraft activity. Overdrawing an account, maintaining a negative available balance for any period of time, and returning transactions as unpaid may have other impacts including account closure or negative impacts to your ability to obtain financial services including loans, deposit accounts, and other services at PNC and other institutions.

Payment Control:

Payment Control options may be presented in your PNC Mobile app when the available balance in your Account is negative. Payment Control allows customers whose Account has a negative available balance to review and manage certain check payments and/or ACH items (collectively, "Items") which have posted or will post to your Account and contribute to the negative available balance. Payment Control will be made available at PNC's discretion. Not all customers will have access to Payment Control and Payment Control decisions will not be available on all Items. You will not be offered the option of Payment Control if your Account's available balance remains negative for an extended period of time. Point-of-sale transactions and debit card transactions will not be available for decision in Payment Control. Payment Control is not available from 10 p.m. Eastern Time to 6 a.m. Eastern Time on business days.

For Payment Control Items, you may be presented an option to pay the Item (which will create an overdraft and contribute to the negative available balance in your Account) or to return the Item as unpaid (which means the Item will not be paid and will no longer contribute to the negative available balance in your Account). When you are presented with the option to pay or return an Item, you will be able to view the time remaining to make a decision on each Item in the Payment Control screen. You will see both pending and posted Items in Payment Control. Posted Items have been processed by PNC and will be marked with a projected "pay" or "return" decision. If you take no action, the projected decision is the outcome that will occur when the decision time expires. Pending Items are Items that are newly presented to your Account and that will not yet have been processed when they appear in Payment Control. Pending Items will be marked with a projected "pay" or "return" decision, but we may change that decision, if necessary, at the time we process the Item and attempt to post it to your Account.

Any signer on the Account may make pay or return decisions. If any signer submits a decision to return an Item in Payment Control, that decision is final and cannot be changed. If any signer submits a decision to pay an Item in Payment Control, the decision may be changed by any signer prior to the expiration date and time listed for the transaction in the Payment Control time period. PNC reserves the right to decline to pay an Item even if you have selected to have the Item paid where, in our judgment, fraud is suspected or where the Item cannot be processed.

Extra Time and Payment Control may be available at the same time. If you choose to return an Item using the Payment Control feature and returning the Item causes the available balance in your account to become at least $0, your Extra Time period will end.

Items returned in Payment Control may be resubmitted by the payee up to 2 additional times. As a result, Items that you have returned may appear in Payment Control again if the resubmission of an Item contributes to your Account's negative available balance. A record of Items that you have chosen to pay/return will be available in the Payment Control History within the PNC Mobile app.

When you choose to return an Item that has been presented to PNC for payment, we will return the Item to the payee's bank for insufficient funds, and the payee will not receive payment from PNC. You may still have an obligation to pay the payee for goods, services or other products. PNC is not responsible for satisfying any obligations between you and the payee or any other party with respect to an Item you decide to return. Before choosing to return an Item, you should consider rules the payee may have or actions the payee may take on late/returned payments. Overdrawing an account, maintaining a negative available balance for any period of time, and returning transactions as unpaid may have other consequences, including account closure or negative impacts to your ability to obtain financial services including loans, deposit accounts, and other services at PNC and other institutions.

PNC will not be liable for damages or wrongful dishonor if you choose to return an item unpaid through Payment Control.

For customers who have Overdraft Protection (the "Protected Account" is your Spend account in this example): At such time or times that PNC Bank determines that the available balance in your Protected Account is negative, PNC Bank will transfer funds to the Protected Account in an amount sufficient to attempt to bring your available balance to at least $0. This transfer occurs during your Extra Time period and funds will transfer from the Protecting Account during nightly processing at the end of the business day on which the Protected Account was overdrawn. If this transfer is sufficient to bring the available balance in your Protected Account to at least $0, your Extra Time period will end. If you have a Payment Control decision(s) available in an amount that would bring the available balance in your Protected Account to at least $0, you may choose to make a Payment Control decision prior to the Overdraft Protection transfer occurrence. Please refer to your Overdraft Protection Agreement for more information on how Overdraft Protection works.
